

Access Reelworld is the most comprehensive searchable recruiting platform for Canadian Black, Indigenous, and People of Colour in the Screen and Creative Industries.

Since 2000, Reelworld Film Festival and Reelworld Screen Institute have been at the forefront of creating more access and inclusion for Canadian Black, Indigenous, Asian, South Asian, Middle Eastern/North African, and Latin American screen-based talent and workers. In our two decades, we have been instrumental in launching the careers of thousands of individuals in various capacities of the film and television sector. You can see some of them and learn more about us on our website www.reelworld.ca.

In July of 2020, we launched our newest initiative—Access Reelworld, Canada’s largest and most comprehensive searchable recruiting platform for racially diverse Canadians in over 100 job categories in the screen-based industries. Dedicated to equitable hiring practices, Access Reelworld has received an unparalleled show of support from industry partners including ACTRA, NABET, IATSE, CBC, Rogers, Blue Ant Media, Ontario Creates, Telefilm, CMPA, CMF and so many others.

As many companies make advancements in their efforts to counter systemic racism, accessreelworld.ca provides an advanced solution to the sourcing of diverse talent through customized features that allow users to search by ethnicity, language, regional location, and skill set.

We encourage all members of your organization who identify as Black, Indigenous, or any Person of Colour to visit the website and join our community. We invite all hiring managers to support our initiative by posting open jobs on Access Reelworld for a $25 fee. Go to accessreelworld.ca to join or to create a posting.
